LETTERS TO SANTA

Dear Santa,
My name is Tammy. I have been a good girl. I would like a guitar, walkie talkie and an operation game.
Love,
Tammy Cumbie

Dear Santa Claus,
My sister and I would like to have a watch, toy monkey, birthstone ring and some clothes for Christmas. We really enjoy Christmas because we celebrate Christ's birthday and that is when everybody gets together and have a good time. We hope to have a little snow to play in but not too much because we might not get to see our granny, and you might not get to our house. We hope you have a real nice and happy Christmas.
We also love our Mother and Father. We hope you will be nice to them also.
Love,
Brenda Hudson, age 9
Janice Hudson, age 5
Rt. 1, Appomattox, Va.

Dear Santa,
I am six years old. I want a doll named "Hi Dottie" and some oranges, apples, nuts and candy. I will leave you a slice of cake on the table. I am the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Doss.
I Love You,
Gwen Doss
Route 3
Appomattox, Va.

Dear Santa.
I have been a good boy most of the year.
Please bring me a train and accessories for my bike, a horn, basket, light and speedometer.
Please be good to all my friends.
Kevin Martin

Dear Santa,
I would like to have a Panda Bear, Barbie doll head, and games. My brother would like a Airport with planes, games and talking Dr. Seuss. Our cat Corcoa would like a ball with a bell. We will have you milk and cookies.
Merry Christmas to you.
Marie and R. L.

Unusual Christmas Gift Suggested

Richmond A priceless Christmas gift which costs you nothing and which will go to someone you will never know is the unique suggestion of R. Kenneth Hudgins, Executive Director of the Old Dominion Eye Bank.

The marvelous gift of restored eyesight for someone now blind can be made with a stroke of the pen, Hudgins, said. It can be done, he added, by signing a pledge card, offering to donate your eyes, on death, to be used in a sight-restoring corneal transplant operation. Hudgins pointed out that not nearly enough human eye tissue is currently being made available through the donor program to take care of the eye bank's need.

Eye donor pledge cards are available from any member of your local Lions Club or by writing directly to Old Dominion Eye Bank, 408 North 12th Street, Richmond, Va. The Lions Clubs serve the eye bank by providing its financial support and by soliciting eye donor pledges and helping in the implementation of the eye bank program.

Sight-restoring corneal transplants are now being performed in Virginia through the eye bank's services at a rate of more than two per week.

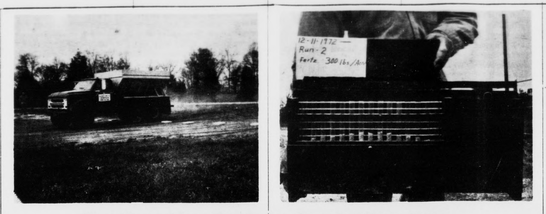
Fertilizer-Lime Spreader Truck Clinic Held



A FERTILIZER - LIME SPREADER TRUCK CLINIC was held Monday at the Appomattox Ball Park.

Fifteen trays were spaced 5 feet apart and passed over by the spreader truck.

The purpose of this clinic is to determine maximum effective swath, rate of application and uniformity of application.

Particles from each tray are poured into individual test tubes to show distribution pattern. Here is an excellent distribution pattern. By overlapping on successive laps a uniform coverage is made.

Date Set For Annual Agriculture Dinner

Elaborate plans for the second annual Virginia Agriculture Appreciation Dinner to be held at The John Marshall Hotel in Richmond, January 17, were revealed here Monday, December 4, at a meeting of area leaders of the industry of agriculture.

A highlight of the event was a premier showing of the film, "Career Opportunities in the Industry of Agriculture," Thomas B. Hall, Jr., Secretary of the Council reported. He said this theme will be carried out in all of the decorations at Hotel John Marshall, and emphasis will be on youth throughout the festive affair at which a variety of Virginia-produced foods will be served buffet style.

Members of the Virginia General Assembly will join agricultural leaders at the gala celebration, which will feature entertainment by the New Virginians, Virginia Tech's Varsity Glee Club and a galaxy of beauty queens, Hall reported.

Miss Virginia, Dona Marie Pillow of Lynchburg, will join a number of state agricultural queens who will assist Council directors and wives in playing host to the more than 1,000 persons expected to participate in the celebration.

Tickets for the dinner may be obtained by contacting a member of the area ticket committee headed by James A. Nolen.

Other members of the committee include: Fred Wydner, Jr. of Brookneal, John D. Smith of Amherst, James A. Smith of Appomattox and Mr. C. L. Fleshman of Lynchburg.

Thomas Hall, Jr. reviewed first-year accomplishments and future objectives of the Agribusiness Council, formed in November 1972 to represent all segments of the state's four billion dollar industry of agriculture from production to marketing. He said membership in the Council has grown to more than three times that of the 43-year-old Agricultural Conference Board of Virginia, which the Council replaced, including 38 agricultural commodity and business organizations who total membership exceeds 325,000 farm families and businessmen.

Peace On Earth

Flue-Cured Tobacco Quota & Allotment Increased 10% For 1973

A national marketing quota of 1,179 million pounds for the 1973 crop of flue-cured tobacco, 10 percent larger than 1972 quota, was announced today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to meet market requirements in the face of declining supplies.

Farm income from flue-cured tobacco is expected to increase substantially as a result of the larger production in 1973, USDA officials stated.

Department officials pointed out that higher production is needed in the year ahead to meet increased usage of tobacco products in the United States and foreign countries. About 40 percent of the flue-cured tobacco produced in the United States is exported. Foreign buyers have indicated that they have been unable to obtain grades and quantities needed to supply foreign demand.

The Department also announced that the export payment program for tobacco will be terminated effective with the 1973 crop. However, under terms of the program, exporters may enter into contracts with the Commodity Credit Corporation for 90 days following the formal termination notice (next spring) to export within 48 months specified quantities of tobacco from 1972 and older crops.

The export program was started in 1966 when there was a substantial surplus of tobacco with more than a billion pounds under government loan. Both the surplus and the quantities under loan have been substantially reduced, eliminating one of the primary purposes of the export payment program. Total supply for the current marketing year has been reduced under the acreage-poundage program to 2,935 million pounds -- the lowest level since 1960.

Though the national marketing quota has been increased to 1,179 million pounds for 1973, the national average yield is unchanged at 1,854 pounds per acre. This results in a 1973 national allotment of 635,922 acres, 10 percent larger than for 1972.

Notices of individual farm acreage allotments and marketing quotas for 1973 will be mailed to farm operators by local agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees as soon as adjustments can be made to reflect under-marketings and overmarketings of 1972 farm quotas. As in the past, a small acreage will be reserved in 1973 to establish allotments for farms having no flue-cured acreage history during the last five years, for correcting errors, and for adjusting inequities.

Flue-cured tobacco is grown in Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, Virginia and Alabama.
